

The On-Purpose Leader Forum

Do you want to leave a legacy as an inspired and ethical leader?

The most effective leaders have been found to be those who have the psychological and spiritual capacity to operate from a stable centre, are personally grounded, others directed and create the kinds of secure and supportive environments where engagement, creativity and productivity thrive.

Overview

The On-Purpose Leader takes the core paradigm of Being On- Purpose and applies this to personal and professional Leadership. The program is based around the books The On-Purpose Person and The On-Purpose Business by Kevin W McCarthy as well as other key leadership research and publications. Central to being On-Purpose is you knowing, living and being your spiritual core - your Purpose... and aligning your life to your Purpose, personally and professionally. This forum engages participants in this process.

People will ultimately follow you out of respect of who you are as a human being and not only for the relationships you form, the results you achieve and the leaders you reproduce.

Participants

This leadership retreat is for executives and senior professionals wanting to significantly enhance their personal and professional leadership capability and capacity. This is an "atypical leadership forum". As one previous participant remarked, Edward and Angela Gifford have one of the best kept secrets in Australia."

In association with On-Purpose Partners, Dr Phil Harker and Ted Scott AO bring immense leadership knowledge, expertise and experience to the forum and coaching engagements.

Process

The On-Purpose Leader can be taken either as a five day retreat on the Gold Coast in Queensland, Australia or one-on-one in a 6-12 month executive leadership coaching program.
